Those who pray receive miracles when we pray; we release God's power into our situations. Ever so often a book comes along that I feel should have been written years ago, and this book is one of them. As a Christian who found faith in Nigeria in the 80s, I was intrigued by stories about 'God Generals", those men and women that led 20th century revivals across the world (most of them in the West). Now I have in my hands, a book that shares some of the stories of some of my fellow countrymen who shaped the faith landscape in Nigeria. I am really impressed with the diversity of the leaders identified and the depth of the research undertaken. This book, in my view, should be a must read for anyone interested in origins of Pentecostalism in Nigeria. Keno Ogbo, Co-editor, The Black Church in the 21st Century "The Lord joined us to the ministry of Benson Idahosa for 20 years and we saw firsthand the reality and power of the gospel in Africa that has touched the world. The Lord's sovereign work in the continent is going to impact the globe for generations to come. Thank God for the African church of Jesus Christ. Millions of strong and faithful believers are coming forth at this critical time as God builds His church." Dr Kent & Ruth Hodge, President of Christian Faith Institute, Jos, Nigeria. Christianity has been recognised to be a growing religion in Sub Sahara Africa. The expression of Christianity that is expanding in Africa is Pentecostalism. One reason for this growth is the renewal factor which has engulfed the whole continent. Nigeria is one of the countries that has and is still experiencing revival that is contributing to local and global Christianity. What is the origin of Pentecostalism in Nigeria? What contributions did the late Archbishop Benson Idahosa make to the Pentecostal scene in Africa? Why is RCCG one of the fastest growing Churches in the World? This book considers the history of Pentecostalism in Nigeria by looking at the pioneering efforts of men and women who laid the foundation of the Movement. This book centers around mid-level charismatic pastors in Ghana. Karen Lauterbach analyzes pastorship as a pathway to becoming small "big men" and achieving status, wealth, and power in the country. The volume investigates both the social processes of becoming a pastor and the spiritual dimensions of how power and wealth are conceptualized, achieved, and legitimized in the particular context of Asante in Ghana. Lauterbach integrates her analysis of charismatic Christianity with a historically informed examination of social mobility—how people in subordinate positions seek to join up with power. She explores how the ideas and experiences surrounding the achievement of wealth and performance of power are shaped and re-shaped. In this way, the book historicizes current expressions of charismatic Christianity in Ghana while also bringing the role of religion and belief to bear on our understanding of wealth and power as they function more broadly in African societies. Have you read or heard of a man who brought more than 40 corpses back to life? A clergyman who, throughout his crusades, used the power of God to heal more than 100 blind and lame people? If you want to learn how God can convert multitudes of people here on earth via a mortal man, then you should read this book. This volume seeks to address displacement as a broad and multilayered phenomenon. A series of illustrative case studies drawn from around the globe provide causal accounts of why and how displacement occurs, what its effects on communities, ecosystems, and economies look like, and the normative or ethical positions held by key actors involved. Contributors offer economic, political, and cultural analyses, as well as extensive ethnographic field research, to present a picture of displacement that illustrates the depth and the breadth of the issue. Religion, History, and Politics in Nigeria is concerned with the problematic nature of religion and politics in Nigerian history. The book provides a lively and straightforward treatment of the relationship among religion, politics, and history in Nigeria, and how it affects public life today. By adopting various cultural, historical, political, and sociological perspectives, the text's contributors provide an excellent introduction to the volatile mix of religion and politics in Nigerian history, as well as a range of strategic choices open to religious adherents. The complexity of the relationship among religion, history, and politics is organized around four themes: indigenous values and the influence of Islam and Christianity, colonialism and religious transformation, the religious landscape of the post-colonial period, and the rise of evangelism and fundamentalism. The volume provides an insightful guide to contemporary history, contemporary religion, and contemporary politics, enabling the reader to reach informed and balanced judgments about the role in religion in Nigerian history and politics. This opens the door for serious examination and debate, and will be excellent for use by the general reader and in political science, history, and religion courses. Against a backdrop of debate concerning the role of Pentecostalism as a mediator of 'modernity', this book examines the interaction between charismatic Christianity, spiritual power and gendered social change in contemporary Ghana. In one simple prayer, Jabez caught God's attention and received a life-changing miracle from a life of pain and sorrow to a life of abundance, prosperity, establishment, and security (I Chronicles 4:10). Why was his prayer answered abundantly? Because Jabez understood that only the power of God can change any situation, no matter how dire, and he was determined to see change. So, he made targeted requests to God asking for blessings, enlargement and for evil to be removed from him, and God answered his prayer. As a result, he became more honorable than his brothers according to the Bible. In this book, Prophet Austin Idahosa will deepen your understanding of spiritual mysteries and unseen forces that operate behind the scenes to hinder the blessings that God has in store for every Christian. He also provides directions on how to pray targeted prayers that will enable you to break through your limitations and enter into sustainable divine blessings and abundance. When you pray targeted prayers with understanding and determination, you obtain amazing results. Prophet Austin Idahosa is the General Overseer of Recreation Fire and Miracles Ministries, a prophetic, healing, and deliverance ministry with headquarters in Minnesota, USA. He is married to Pastor Elizabeth Idahosa, and they are blessed with beautiful children. MY SUPERMAN David, who always wanted to be a prolific and successful writer, later found himself taking a step further to live in a hidden world where villains live and dwell. He was committing crimes and was held behind bars. He saw that the more friends he was having, the farther he was walking from his dream. Despite that addiction to crime, which almost stole his life away, he still would not relinquish his dream of becoming something he feels inclined to be that he so believed is what he will be judged with by God when he die. He said he could see that crime can also be a product of the law and as a lack of social benefit. A young African born into a vicious cycle of poverty in one of the most corrupt countries in the world. And because of the political situation of his country, which was on the brink of a civil war, the lack of enough financial support from his impoverished family for him to run his educationso as for him to be able to secure himself from danger by having a profession to work and live peacefully in his country. He then decided to set on a formidable journey of life, departed thenceand traveled to Europe by land, passing through the Sahara desert, which he described as the hell on earth, to Morocco, and later to Spain. Reaching Spain, he proceeded farther on his adventurous journey that altered his life and dreamonly to make him discover the tragedies that later befell him and made him to send his ghost to live in the land where he was incarcerated by unending miseries, seeing his life in peril and his dreams turning into nightmares. In accordance with fact, he became less preoccupied with his own problems as he looked to the three major problems engulfing the world, which are hunger, wars, and terrorism. He found politics more fascinating, and when he tried to ascertain the facts about it, he grasped that it was greed, power, and lust that were written in their agendas, and it was disturbing his faith and beliefs in humanity. He thought he could see how men chose to forbid love and peace, to embrace enmities and conflicts; he said he could see that if men cannot make a sacrifice to love their neighbors, they will find themselves paying prices for destroying each other. An exploration of the rapid development of African Christianity, offering an analysis and interpretation of its movements and issues. > This book explores the process of transformation, discussing how individuals are capable of acting to enable transformation of structures and cultures through the lens of South African higher education. Agency and Social Transformation in South African Higher Education examines the role of agency in effecting change amidst the rigid conditions within South African universities. Arguing for a focus on transformation from below, it explores transformation and agency from the perspective of academic staff. Through discussing moments at which faculty members embedded in rigid structures and cultures perceive themselves as having had the agency to interrupt and transform them, despite their rigidity, this book describes the nuances of social action and agency within the South African higher education institutional context and the ways in which contextual histories may provide enabling/limiting conditions to individuals within them. This book makes an important contribution to the field of agency and social transformation theoretically, methodologically and geographically as it details the motivations for transformation, how individuals become agents of change and the practical experiences of these individuals from a localised perspective. Agency and Social Transformation in South African Higher Education will be of interest to scholars and students of African higher education, transformation studies and postcolonial studies. A cross-cultural encyclopedia of the most significant holy people in history, examining why people in a wide range of religious traditions throughout the world have been regarded as divinely inspired. After an explosion of conversions to Pentecostalism over the past three decades, tens of millions of Nigerians now claim that "Jesus is the answer." But if Jesus is the answer, what is the question? What led to the movement's dramatic rise and how can we make sense of its social and political significance? In this ambitiously interdisciplinary study, Ruth Marshall draws on years of fieldwork and grapples with a host of important thinkers—including Foucault, Agamben, Arendt, and Benjamin—to answer these questions. To account for the movement's success, Marshall explores how Pentecostalism presents the experience of being born again as a chance for Nigerians to realize the promises of political and religious salvation made during the colonial and postcolonial eras. Her astute analysis of this religious trend sheds light on Nigeria's contemporary politics, postcolonial statecraft, and the everyday struggles of ordinary citizens coping with poverty, corruption, and inequality. Pentecostalism's rise is truly global, and Political Spiritualities persuasively argues that Nigeria is a key case in this phenomenon while calling for new ways of thinking about the place of religion in contemporary politics. This book will help you know the will of God concerning your destined blessings and how to secure them prayerfully through Christ This volume examines relations between U.S. Protestants and Africa since the end of colonial rule. It draws attention to shifting ecclesiastical and socio-political priorities, especially the decreased momentum of social justice advocacy and the growing missionary influence of churches emphasizing spiritual revival and personal prosperity. The book provides a thought-provoking assessment of U.S. Protestant involvements with Africa, and it proposes forms of engagement that build upon ecclesiastical dynamism within American and African contexts. Smiling on a Troubled Planet by David O. Idahosa A British-born Arab man studying at University College in London decides to be recruited by the terrorist group ISIS, in an attempt to liberate them from their world of hatred and vengeance. An American billionaire who believes he can make the world become a better place for humanity. A Japanese student schooled in Canada and later finds a job in the United States. An African writer residing in Paris. A French-born Arab woman who is a lawyer in France and working for many politicians. A refugee born and raised in Ethiopia who moves, with his parents, to live in Somalia—a place torn apart by war—prompting him to flee to Europe on a boat after his parents are killed by terrorists. These six people are called by the Universe when their souls journey to the land of the immortals, where they encounter the gods and goddesses. On returning to Earth to carry out the risky tasks of healing humanity and returning it to its maker. They face a series of events and obstacles from their unknown foes. But they will not relinquish their commitments to humanity and nature, or cease to love and cherish the planet they inhabit, and allow it to be set ablaze by problems that could bring it to annihilation. Will they be a success or will they be exterminated from the surface of the Earth? The Author, Mr. Idahosa Asowata was one of the very brilliant trainee - journalists at the Times Journalism Institute (TJI), Lagos where I was the Deputy Director in 1980-86. I remember, as if it were yesterday, Mr. Asowata's top rate performances in General Reporting, Specialised Reporting and Current Affairs which I handled. That he has decided to write a book on REPORTING is a very wise decision on his part. First, he has the experience - reportorially garnered for almost two decades from one of Africa's biggest newspapers conglomerate - The DAILY TIMES of Nigeria. Mr. Idahosa has always had the zeal for EXCLUSIVE reports which made him his editor's hope for front page lead stories when news was scarce. I recommend this book to budding journalists especially cub-reporters. I equally recommend it to Journalism Institutions. This book fills a lacuna in the theory and practice of Reportorial Journalism because there had been a vacuum. Any journalist who lays hand on this book will find it difficult to put down until he has read it from page to page. I am proud of Mr. Idahosa Asowata and this debut publication of his. Obviously, if he hadn't passed through my hands as a trainee - journalist in 1981-2, he wouldn't have been a journalist today. And this book wouldn't have been written for you to read.
